Ethan,

I hope everything is going ok for you. Not much going on here, at least the weather is nice, a lot warmer than back in Indiana.

I ~~wrote~~ wrote you a letter yesterday which I should have mailed today but its Sunday & there is no mail pickup. So every week you should have one day with 2 letters.

Well you are getting real close to being ½ way thru basic training so be brave & stick it out. Is your PT scores getting better?

I know its tough there but when you get done you will be proud you stuck it out. I know you can do it. Then things will really get a lot easier & Army life will get enjoyable.

well there's not much more to say right now except we love you very much & we cant wait till we see you again.

Love, Your Parents
